What devices am I able to use to access the telemedicine feature?

Our telemedicine consultation service is available via our FHMW App on Android and iOS enabled mobile devices.

Am I able to use a non-Singapore registered mobile number for verification?

Yes, you can use a non-Singapore registered mobile number for verification.

As an added security measure to reduce the risk of online identity theft, One-Time PIN (OTP) verification is required as part of the verification process.

What if there is a problem connecting to a telemedicine doctor during my appointment timeslot?

To minimise connectivity issues, we would strongly recommend that you connect to a stable Wi-Fi connection before your video consultation.

If you are still unable to connect, please contact our medical concierge team at 6715 9427.

Are my personal information and medical records secured?

All patient data (including payment details) and medical records provided to us via the FHMW App are securely stored.

Where can I access my medical records and consultation history?

All medical data with regards to your past telemedicine consultations are accessible via the 'Consultation History' tab.

Your telemedicine consultation history and records will be reflected in the main FHMW app under the 'Consultation History' tab.

Am I able to record the telemedicine consultation via the FHMW App?

No, the FHMW App strictly prohibits any form of recording as any violation would constitute a breach of privacy and confidentiality regulations between the doctor and patient.

Am I able to choose my doctor for my telemedicine consultation?

No, our team of doctors are all MOH teleconsultation-certified and are trained to provide quality telemedicine services. You will be seen by the next available doctor.

Can I cancel my consultation?

Yes, you may choose to cancel the consultation while still waiting in queue.

Will I be refunded for my consultation payment if I cancel or miss my appointment?

For consultations cancelled before connecting to the doctor, your consultation payment will be refunded to you based on your payment method within 3 – 5 business days.

What is the waiting time for a telemedicine consultation?

The consultation will connect you to the next available doctor soonest. You will be able to see how many patients are ahead of you while waiting.

What do I need to prepare before my telemedicine consultation?

Please prepare your identification card for verification during the telemedicine consultation as well as any existing medication you may be taking.

Please also ensure that you have turned on your microphone, camera settings and in-app notifications. In addition, please be located in a well-lit area with little background noise and have a stable internet connection.

Can I use any other mode of identification other than NRIC?

You can use your Passport or Singapore Driving License as alternate mode of identification.

Will a fee be incurred if the telemedicine doctor decides an in-person consultation is required?

If the doctor deems your condition not suitable, the doctor will refer you to a physical general practitioner at the end of the consultation and will provide you a referral letter.

Can referral letters and medical certificates be issued by our telemedicine doctors?

Your doctor will assess and recommend the best course of treatment, which may or may not involve the issuance of a referral letter or medical certificate. If required, the doctor may refer you to a physical general practitioner instead.
